Detail of change

1. Amend citation 1.5 as follows:

Applications for suspension of status should be made to the Programme Director concerned, c/o the relevant Graduate Studies Assistant; and will require additional approval from the Director of Graduate Studies.'

2. Amend citation 1.13 as follows:

'(b) Courses (i) to (iii) will each be assessed by a 2-hour written examination. Course (iv) will be assessed by a final integrative written assignment of 6,000 words. Assignments must be submitted online, as set out in the assessment section of the programme ~~WebLearn site~~ learning platform, not later than 12 noon on the stipulated submission date, which will be published by the Programme Director by the first module of the programme.'

3. Amend citation 1.17 as follows:

~~'4. Candidates who fail an examination may be re-examined on not more than one occasion which shall normally be within one year of their initial failure. Candidates who fail to satisfy the Examiners in the assessment of any of the components may retake or resubmit the failed assessment once, no more than twelve months after the final meeting of the Board of Examiners, excluding any period of suspension.'~~

Explanatory Notes

1. Amendment to the timing permitted for resits: This amendment is to clarify the time permitted for resits as the existing regulations are currently unclear on the time allowed. An amendment is to be made across all PGDips at the Business School and (see related notices in this edition of the Gazette) will bring PGDips in line with the Executive MBA and MSc in Major Programme Management.
2. Amendment to the minimum length of suspension of status: In practice, suspensions are normally given for twelve months to allow students to re-join the programme the following academic year at the same point they left. This ensures that students do not miss or repeat any teaching or assessment, and allows students to progress chronologically through the course, building up to the final integrative assessment at the end of the programme. An amendment is to be made across all PGDips at the Business School (see related notices in this edition of the Gazette). This change would not bring these regulations into conflict with the current General Regulations concerning the status of graduate taught students, 'Suspension of Status of Graduate Taught Students'.
