<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Changes to Examination Regulations 2013</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Medical Sciences Board

Approved: 3rd June 2014

Title of Programme / Examination: Postgraduate Diploma in Integrated Immunology

Brief note about nature of change: Removal of this degree from the regulations, as it has become redundant.

Effective date: With effect from 1 October 2014

Location of change: Examination Regulations 2013

Details of change:

In Examination Regulations, 2013, delete from l. 1 on p. 1022 to l. 37 on p. 1023 inclusive.

Explanatory Notes

The Postgraduate Diploma in Integrated Immunology was originally set up to allow DPhil students who had already secured a place at Oxford to follow the first two terms of the MSc in Integrated Immunology course and then have an early start for their DPhil in Trinity Term. To date only one student has taken this option, in 2004/5. The MSc Steering Committee support the proposal to remove the Postgraduate Diploma from the Examination Regulations, with effect from 2014-15. The Graduate School Committee of the Medical Sciences Division also approved the proposal.