If no such notice has been given, and unless Council has declared otherwise or the meeting has been adjourned, the resolution shall be carried and the meeting may be cancelled.

Voting on Resolution authorising the use of space in the Dickson Poon Building for the University of Oxford China Centre at St Hugh's College

Explanatory Note

The University of Oxford China Centre was launched in May 2008. Its objective is to ensure that the University's commitment to the study of China is continually developed and expanded as the rising power of China sets new challenges and requires new areas of research. The centre joins together academics from across the whole University, but remains a virtual centre. The construction of a new building at St Hugh's College, some of the space in which the University proposes to lease, provides the opportunity to create a physical home for the China Centre in a purpose-built state of the art facility.

Text of Resolution

That approximately 733 sq m net usable area in the Dickson Poon Building for the University of Oxford China Centre at St Hugh's College be allocated to the University of Oxford China Centre. This allocation to take effect on a date in 2014 to coincide with the commencement of the University's lease on the space in question and to remain effective for the duration of that lease (25 years).

Notices

Note on procedures in Congregation

Nominating Committee for the Vice-Chancellorship

Two persons, not also being members of Council, elected by Congregation

Current/Retiring Member	To hold office until
Professor G D W Smith, Faculty of Materials	MT 2018
Dr A Avramides, St Hilda's	MT 2018

The following nominations have been received:

Nicholas C Bamforth, BCL MA Oxf, Fellow of Queen's, Faculty of Law

Nominated by:

P A Madden, Provost of Queen's, University Offices
A M Bowie, Queen's, Faculty of Classics
M J Burden, New College, Faculty of Music
S C Cooper, St Catherine's, Faculty of Physics
D G Fraser, Worcester, Faculty of Earth Sciences
S D Fredman, Pembroke, Faculty of Law
E J Garnett, Wadham, Faculty of History
L J M Green, Balliol, Faculty of Law
L C H Hoyano, Wadham, Faculty of Law
J C L Tseng, St Edmund Hall, Faculty of Physics

Candidate statement:

Oxford's worldwide success in research and teaching is closely associated with its academic values and democratic internal organisation. We recruit internationally distinguished faculty members and attract exceptionally able students on the basis that we are - in departments, faculties and most particularly Colleges - an egalitarian academic community.

Anyone selected as Vice-Chancellor must respect Oxford's distinctive values and structures, while having the ability to build consensus within the academic community about how best to defend, strengthen and safeguard them. An ability to build consensus will also be crucial at a practical level, for example in reinforcing the university's attempts to develop and maintain generous bursaries for students. Members of the Nominating Committee for the Vice-Chancellorship must, as a result, be keenly aware of and sympathetic to the values and structures concerned.

Having served as an elected member of the University Council (2006-10) and as Junior Proctor (2010-11) during the time in office of two Vice-Chancellors, I have seen at first hand and over a five year period many of the challenges which face the holder of that post. I have been able to reflect closely on the qualities which a successful Vice-Chancellor needs in Oxford, and if elected to the Nominating Committee I will do my utmost to ensure that anyone nominated to the post possesses those qualities.

University positions previously held:

- Elected member of Council, 2006-2010
- Junior Proctor, 2010-2011
- Council-nominated member of the Education Committee, 2006-2010

Chas Bountra, BSc Lond, PhD Edin, Faculty of Clinical Medicine

Nominated by:

W N Hutton, Principal of Hertford
F M Ashcroft, Trinity, Faculty of Physiological Sciences
J I Bell, Christ Church, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
A M Buchan, Corpus Christi, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
K E Davies, Hertford, Faculties of Biochemistry, of Physiological Sciences, and of Clinical Medicine
D J Gavaghan, New College, Faculty of Computer Science
J R Geddes, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
R E Phillips, Pembroke, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
P J Ratcliffe, Magdalen, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
C J Schofield, Hertford, Faculty of Chemistry

Candidate statement:

I would be honoured to sit on the Nominating Committee for the Vice-Chancellorship. I enjoyed a Fellowship in Physiology and a College Lectureship at Balliol, before moving into the pharmaceutical industry to drive new drug discovery programmes in Neurodegenerative, Pain and Gastrointestinal diseases. I have been back in Oxford for the past 5 years as Director of the Structural Genomics Consortium (SGC) and Professor of Translational Medicine, in NDM.

In this period the SGC has become a leader in human protein structural biology, epigenetics chemical biology, and one of the most successful public-private partnerships in biomedicine. Working with many colleagues in MS and MPLS divisions, and the Doctoral Training Centres, the SGC has become a hub for innovation, for academic collaborations, partnerships with many pharmaceutical companies and now, for the creation of new enterprises.

I continue to work across these Divisions and Social Sciences, to progress joint initiatives for creating many new biotech in Oxford ("Bioescalator") and major funding applications in Target Discovery, rare diseases, Alzheimer's, chemical and structural biology. Outside Oxford, I am working with several UK and non-UK funders to expand pre-competitive science and "transform" the way we do drug discovery.

My primary objective is to use the in depth knowledge, innovation, clinical expertise and entrepreneurship in Oxford to create important new medicines for patients, sustainable life science companies and hence many more high tech jobs in the region. The collective efforts of many friends in the University are making Oxford the academic drug discovery centre of Europe.

Bill Roscoe, MA DPhil Oxf, Fellow of University College, Faculty of Computer Science

Nominated by:

DC Clary, President of Magdalen, Faculty of Chemistry

IM Crewe, Master of University College, Faculty of Social Studies

SC Cooper, St Catherine's, Faculty of Physics

RL Davies, Christ Church, Faculty of Physics

AM Etheridge, Magdalen, Faculties of Statistics and of Mathematics

ANHalliday, Wadham, Faculty of Earth Sciences BA Sufrin, Worcester, Faculty of Computer Science

JF Wheeler, University College, Faculty of Physics

Candidate statement:

I became the university's very first tutorial fellow in Computer Science in 1983. Since then I have always been closely involved in the life of Univ, and was Senior Tutor there 1993-7. I was the final Chairman of the Mathematical Sciences Faculty Board (1998-2000) before becoming Head of the Computer Science Department in 2003, a position I will hold until 2014. In my time I have helped choose (usually leading the selection process) at least 100 Oxford academics.

The university needs the sort of leadership that will both protect Oxford's distinctive and uniquely strong brand as a collegiate university, and carry it forward to meet the ever more extraordinary challenges and opportunities that the modern world brings to the university sector.

Note: Full details of the committee's remit, composition, functions and powers can be found at: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/statutes/regulations/308-072.shtml.

For further information, please contact the Deputy University Secretary (emma.rampton@admin.ox.ac.uk).

Notes:

Nominations in writing for the elections on 13 June, by four members of Congregation other than the candidate, were received by the Elections Office, at the University Offices, Wellington Square, up to 4pm on Thursday, 16 May.

Research participants sought

Experiences of multiple conditions. As part of a National Institute for Health Research project, we are looking to interview (either in person or by telephone) both patients and GPs across the country about their experiences of managing multiple conditions, and to seek their thoughts on what might help them to manage these conditions better. We are interested in speaking to patients with at least 2 of the following conditions: asthma, COPD, diabetes, epilepsy, heart failure and stroke. We would also like to speak to GPs about the issues they face with patients with these conditions, and what they feel could be changed to improve clinical management and patient outcomes. For further information please contact Kate Neal, Health Services and Policy Research Group: kate.neal@phc.ox.ac.uk or 07775 003928.

The Oxford Pregnancy Study is investigating how anxiety during pregnancy may affect mums and babies. We are currently recruiting women who are pregnant for the first time, are between 18 and 40 years old and speak English fluently. Participation in the study will take approximately 2 hours in total, and all participants will be reimbursed for time and travel expenses. For more information about this study, please email prenatal@psych.ox.ac.uk, or telephone 01865 316109.

Teenage Social Cognition Study participants needed: we are looking for teenagers to take part in research into the understanding of social information and why some people are more worried about social situations than others. The research involves 1 hour maximum, in which the participant will be playing computerised games and completing a questionnaire. We are seeking teenagers aged 11-17 who have no developmental concerns. Participants will be reimbursed with an Amazon voucher. Please email: simona.haller@psy.ox.ac.uk.
