Humanities Divisional Board

Approved at the meeting of 5 May 2020 by the History Undergraduate Studies Committee, and previously at History and Economics Joint Standing Committee, 13 February 2020

Title of Programme/ Name of Regulation
Preliminary Examination in History and Economics

Brief note about nature of change: To remove Quantification in History from the menu of papers available to History and Economics students

Location of change
In Examination Regulations 2019-20
https://examregs.admin.ox.ac.uk/Regulation?code=pehistandecon  Section B 4 (d)

Effective date
For students starting from MT 2020
For first examination from 2020-21

Detail of change
1.9 4. One of the following subjects, as specified for the Preliminary Examination in History:
\[ 1.10 (a) \text{ Approaches to History;} \]
\[ 1.11 (b) \text{ Historiography: Tacitus to Weber;} \]
\[ 1.12 (c) \text{ Foreign Texts;} \]
\[ 1.13 (d) \text{ Quantification in History.} \]

Explanatory Notes
Quantification in History will no longer be available to History and Economics first year students. This is because of content overlap with the new Quantification in Prelims material on statistical methods and causal inference, which will be taught from this academic year (12 lectures over 2 terms and three college tutorials).
