Presentation of Vice-Chancellor's Oration

The Oration delivered by the Vice-Chancellor on 8 October will be presented and may be discussed.

¶ The Oration has been published as Supplement (1) to Gazette No 5036.

Congregation 17 December 2pm

¶ Members of Congregation are reminded that any two members may, not later than noon on 9 December, give notice in writing to the Registrar that they intend to oppose or amend the legislative proposal at 1 or the resolution at 2 below (see the note on the conduct of business in Congregation below). If no such notice has been given, and unless Council has declared otherwise or the meeting has been adjourned, the legislative proposal and resolution shall be carried, and the meeting may be cancelled.

(1) Voting on Legislative Proposal: Statute XIV: Employment of Academic and Support Staff by the University

Explanatory Note

Following Congregation's approval of the resolution to rename the main lecturer grade as 'associate professor' (published in Gazette No 5037, 17 October 2013), this legislative proposal amends the legislation relating to the employment of staff by the University.

The changes establish the grade of associate professor with effect from 1 January 2014 such that those lecturers that are currently appointed as a university lecturer, a university lecturer (medical), a CUF lecturer, a faculty lecturer or a ULNTF may, as they wish, either use the title of associate professor or retain their previous nomenclature without prejudice to their existing position under the statutes and regulations (for example in respect of eligibility to apply for sabbatical leave or dispensation from lecturing obligations). Appointments to those grades on or after 1 January 2014 will be to the grade of associate professor.

In accordance with the detailed, refined proposal accompanying the resolution, the changes also allow for the following to use the title of associate professor: titular CUF lecturers and university lecturers, supernumerary titular CUF lecturers and university lecturers, substantive readers (including clinical readers), researchers in the professorial-equivalent grade of RSIV, Wellcome Principal Research Fellows, honorary consultant MRC directors, keepers in ASUC whose contractual duties include teaching and research and all university researchers and ASUC staff currently holding the title of reader.

For the avoidance of doubt, those persons upon whom the title of full professor or reader has been conferred may continue to use that title.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Statute XIV concerning the employment of academic and support staff by the University, THE UNIVERSITY ENACTS AS FOLLOWS.

1 In Statute XIV, concerning the employment of academic and support staff by the University, delete existing section 7 and substitute (new text underlined, deleted text scored through):

'7. The three main categories of academic staff shall be:

- (1) professors;;
- (2) readers; and
- (3) associate professors or lecturers.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Appointments to the post of university lecturer (including university lecturer (medical) and ULNTF), CUF lecturer and faculty lecturer on or after 1 January 2014 shall be to the post of associate professor. Those appointed to the posts of university lecturer (including university lecturer (medical) and ULNTF), CUF lecturer and faculty lecturer prior to 1 January 2014 shall be eligible to use the title of associate professor without prejudice to their existing position under the statutes and regulations.'

2 Ibid, insert new sections 8 and 9 and renumber existing sections 8–14 as sections 10–16 (new text underlined):

'8. Those lecturers who were appointed to the post of university lecturer, CUF lecturer or faculty lecturer prior to 1 January 2014 shall be eligible to use the title of associate professor but the provisions relating to lecturers and, where relevant, those particular provisions relating to university lecturers, CUF lecturers and faculty lecturers, shall continue to apply to any such persons for so long as they remain in that post.

9. Associate professors appointed on or after 1 January 2014 shall be subject to the provisions relating to lecturers including those particular provisions relating to university lecturers, CUF lecturers or faculty lecturers as shall be appropriate in light of the duties attaching to their post.'

3 This statute shall be effective from 1 January 2014.

Regulations to be made by Council if the Statute is approved

1 In Council Regulations 3 of 2004, concerning the employment of University Staff, insert new regulation 9 and renumber existing regulations 9–29 as regulations 10–30 (new text underlined):

'9. Without prejudice to their position under the statutes and regulations, the following persons shall be eligible to use the title of associate professor:

- (1) all those holding the post of reader (including clinical readers);
- (2) titular CUF lecturers and university lecturers;
- (3) supernumerary titular CUF lecturers and university lecturers;
- (4) all those in the grade of RSIV;
- (5) Wellcome Principal Research Fellows;
- (6) honorary consultant MRC directors;

(7) keepers in the major museums and scientific collections whose contractual duties include teaching and research;

(8) researchers holding the title of reader; and

(9) staff in the major museums and scientific collections holding the title of reader.'

2 This regulation shall be effective from 1 January 2014.

(2) Voting on a Resolution authorising the use of space in the Pharmacology Building

Explanatory Note

This resolution allocates space formerly leased by the Medical Research Council (MRC), for the MRC Anatomical Neuro-pharmacology Unit, to the Department of Pharmacology, following the termination of the aforementioned lease and transfer of the unit's work and staff to the department.

Text of Resolution

That approximately 728 sq m net usable area in the Pharmacology Building, formerly leased by the MRC, be allocated to the Department of Pharmacology.

Note on procedures in Congregation

NT Woods, University College, Faculty of Social Studies

Candidate statement:

It would be an honour to serve as a member of this Committee. I am seeking election as I believe that I have relevant experience and insights to bring to the work of the Committee.

As the senior administrator in a department, I interact on a daily basis with the central university. As someone working to help establish a new department, I am heavily engaged in supporting teaching and research, in fundraising and in planning strategy in the changing current context of higher education. I believe I therefore have a good insight into the challenges and tasks facing any new Vice-Chancellor.

I have been both an undergraduate and graduate student of the University.

On graduating, I served as a Trustee of University College's Old Member Trust and chaired for seven years the Trust's Student Support and Access Committee. I am well apprised of the access and student funding issues that confront the Vice-Chancellor. I also appreciate the importance of the Vice-Chancellor working closely with Colleges to agree the best approach for the collegiate University.

Before joining the Blavatnik School of Government, I served as a senior civil servant and, in my two previous roles, advised the Deputy Prime Minister and Cabinet Secretary. I have a clear understanding of the political context in which the Vice-Chancellor will need to be an effective champion of the University's interests. In my former roles, I was also closely involved in the selection and appointment processes for many senior public offices.

A J Pollard, St Cross, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
I M C Tracey, Pembroke, Faculty of Psychological Studies, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
S Vogenauer, Brasenose, Faculty of Law

Candidate statement:

My reason for standing is that I would like to contribute to a process which elects the best person to this key post who will take the University into the future at a time when academic life, teaching and research are becoming increasingly difficult. I have held the Uehiro Chair in Practical Ethics at the University since 2002, and served on committees including at University level (Committee to Review Donations, the Socially Responsible Investment Review Committee, the Central University Research Ethics Committee, the University of Oxford Registrar's Advisory Group on Research Ethics), at departmental and divisional levels (Faculty Board, Faculty of Philosophy, Medical Humanities Advisory Group), and at college level (Governing Body, St Cross College, Development Working Group, St Cross College).

The following nominations have been received:

Rory Collins, MB BS Lond, MA MSc Oxf, Faculty of Clinical Medicine

Nominated by:

Sir John Bell, Christ Church, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
Professor Dame Valerie Beral, Green Templeton, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
M J Goldacre, Magdalen, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
A M Gray, Wolfson, Faculty of Clinical Medicine

Sir Richard Peto, Green Templeton, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
P B Sullivan, Magdalen, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
H C Watkins, Exeter, Faculty of Clinical Medicine

Candidate statement:

Professor Rory Collins was appointed to head the Nuffield Department of Population Health (NDPH) when it was established on 1 July 2013. This new Department brings together the Clinical Trial Service Unit & Epidemiological Studies Unit, the Cancer

Epidemiology Unit, and the Department of Public Health. The aims of the NDPH are to deliver high quality research that has a major impact on population health, as well as to help train and develop the next generation of researchers. Previously, population health research in Oxford was fragmented and the discipline was not well represented at Division or University level (for example, the Medical Sciences Board Strategic Plan for 2011–15 listed detailed research agenda for many disciplines, but nothing on population health). Increased sharing of the complementary skills in various aspects of population health science that currently exist in the NDPH and elsewhere in Oxford (including the Department of Primary Care Health Sciences, Department of Paediatrics, Nuffield Department of Clinical Medicine, and Radcliffe Department of Medicine) should strengthen the contributions of each of the component parts, while plans to expand expertise in certain areas (such as bio-informatics and record linkage) should enhance our ability to conduct population health research effectively. Representation on the Medical Sciences Board would help with delivering this vision of producing substantial increases in research outputs that have major impacts on health worldwide, and of raising the national and international profile of population health research being conducted in the University of Oxford.

F D Richard Hobbs, MB ChB Brist, MA Oxf, Fellow of Harris Manchester, Department of Primary Care Health Sciences

P N Aveyard, Wolfson, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
A J Farmer, Exeter, Faculty of Clinical Medicine
C J Heneghan, Kellogg, Department of Primary Care Health Sciences
R J McManus, Green Templeton, Department of Primary Care Health Sciences

Candidate statement:

Despite our uncertain times, the burgeoning success of Oxford University Medical Sciences remains undiminished by international comparison. It is important to more fully represent the contributions of our applied clinical sciences to this success, complementing the historical strength of basic sciences at Oxford, and our important roles in undergraduate teaching, postgraduate training, and health policy generation. We encompass health at a personal and population level, across all ages, and with strong methodological innovation in disease prevention, epidemiology and trials.

With 36 years of NHS clinical service and 24 years as a clinical scientist and educator, my career has involved significant roles in helping shape and managing change, especially relating to strategic planning, sustainable research growth, standard setting, personnel management and development, financial planning and monitoring. These skills, of direct relevance to the Divisional Board and to the wider university, were gained via several senior university management roles:

- 8 years as Assistant Dean, Finance and Planning & External Affairs, leading strategy for one of the UK's largest Medical Schools
- 3 years as Head of Division, plus 3 years as Head of School of Health and Population Sciences (leading academic growth of Departments of Primary Care, Public Health, Epidemiology, and Health Services Research)
- National experience in leading successful organisations, such as Director, NIHR School for Primary Care Research

I therefore have direct expertise in running combined departments and championing applied science, career development, and the importance of teaching. I am also committed to enhancing our collaborative links within and beyond the Division.
