Changes in Regulations

The General Purposes Committee of Council has made the following changes in regulations, to come into effect on 21 February.

Weldon Memorial Prize

Explanatory Note

These changes: (i) replace the reference to the Linacre Professor of Zoology with reference to any Established Chair within Zoology; (ii) reflect the updated arrangements for responsibility for appointments formerly made by faculty boards, in this case the Boards of the Faculty of Biological Sciences and the Faculty of Mathematical Sciences; and (iii) reflect the change in responsibility for appointments from Hebdomadal Council to the Medical Sciences Divisional Board.

Text of Regulations

1 In Part 2 of Council Regulations 25 of 2002, concerning trusts, in regulation §372, relating to the Weldon Memorial Prize, amend regulation 3 as follows (new text underlined, deleted text scored through):

'3. The electors to the prize shall be

(1) the Vice-Chancellor;

(2) the ~~Linacre Professor of Zoology~~ holder of an Established Chair in the Department of Zoology on a rotational basis;

(3) one person appointed by the Board of the Faculty of Biological Sciences;

(4) one person appointed by the Board of the Faculty of Mathematical Sciences;

(3)-(4) two persons appointed by the Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences Divisional Board;

(5)-(6) two persons appointed by Council the Medical Sciences Divisional Board.

Appointees shall hold office for six years and shall be re-eligible.'

2 Ibid, amend regulation 6 as follows (new text underlined, deleted text scored through):

'6. The prize shall, subject to the provisions of ~~clause~~ regulation 5 above, be awarded without regard to nationality or membership of any University to the person who, in the judgement of the electors, has, in the ten years next preceding the date of the award, published the most noteworthy contribution to the development of mathematical or statistical methods applied to problems in Biology. Biology shall, for the purposes of this clause, be interpreted as including Zoology, Botany, Anthropology, Sociology, Psychology, and Medical Science.'

3 Ibid, amend regulation 10 as follows (new text underlined, deleted text scored through):

'10. The electors shall have power to make ~~regulations or by-laws~~ rules for the purpose of carrying this decree ~~these regulations~~ into effect; and Council shall have power to alter the ~~decree~~ regulations from time to time in such manner as it shall deem expedient, provided that the main objects of the foundation as expressed in ~~clauses~~ regulations 1 and 6 above are always kept in view.'

Social Sciences Board/Education Committee

REVIEW OF THE SCHOOL OF ARCHAEOLOGY

The Social Sciences Board and the Education Committee will jointly conduct a review of the School of Archaeology, as part of Council's programme of rolling reviews of faculties and departments. This review will take place on 12 and 13 May.

The review committee's terms of reference are:

1 To review the quality of academic activities in the department, by reference to:

- international standards of excellence
- action taken since the last review of the department
- planning statements at department and divisional level, and in the context of the University's mission statement and corporate plan.

In particular:

(a) the quality of the research of the department, including its participation in interdepartmental, interdivisional and interdisciplinary activities, its research profile and strategy, and future challenges and opportunities;

(b) the quality of undergraduate and graduate programmes and their delivery and related issues, including:

- access and admissions
- curriculum design and programme structure
- teaching, learning and assessment
- the relationship between teaching and research
- academic and pastoral support and guidance
- the provision and use of learning resources (including staff resources)
- specific arrangements for the pursuit of graduate studies (including research degrees and research training and provision for part-time study)
- relationships with colleges
- quality assurance mechanisms;

(c) the organisation of the department, its management structures and the relationship between the department and the division, including such matters as:

- strategic planning (including relationship to the divisional five-year plans and the University's Corporate Plan)
- academic and non-academic staff planning and recruitment
- student number planning
- terms of appointment for academic staff, including career development and equal opportunities issues
- accommodation and future space needs
- fundraising;

(d) the relationship (structural and operational) between units within the department, and between the department and cognate subject areas and colleges to which it is linked in teaching and research.

2 To consider the current and long-term financial position of, and funding arrangements for, the department, and its financial strategy.

The Review Committee would welcome written comments on matters falling within its terms of reference, given above. These should be sent to the joint secretary to the Review Committee, Rachel Meyrick (email: rachel.meyrick@socsci.ox.ac.uk) by 13 April.

General Notices

Clubs Committee

ANNUAL REPORT 2012-13

The Clubs Committee is pleased to present its annual report for 2012-13 in accordance with section 4.6 of its terms of reference as set out in Council Regulations 2 of 2004. This report was considered by Council's General Purposes Committee in January 2014.

1 As usual, Clubs Committee was chaired by the Assessor (Dr Helen Leith Spencer followed by Dr Penny Probert Smith) with a membership of both staff and student representatives. It continued to provide a range of support for the University's official student clubs and societies (ie those registered with the Proctors).

2 Funding for the committee's activities was provided from two sources in the usual way: an allocation from PRAS (£9.38k), which represented a slight increase from the previous year, and a net share (£10.13k) of the proceeds of the per-capita levy paid by all colleges to support both sports and non-sports clubs at university level.

3 The committee continued to operate a Clubs Office (co-located within the Proctors' Office in the University Offices) staffed by a part-time Clubs Officer. We thank her for her quiet but very effective work. In addition to being available to provide secretarial services on request to student organisations, the Clubs Officer advised on and assisted with registration procedures (including checking financial information submitted). During the year, around 250 clubs and societies registered and re-registered with the Proctors (80 of these were designated as Sports Clubs and dealt with their registration through the Sports Department, while the remaining non-sports clubs and publications dealt direct with the Clubs Office). A total of 19 new non-sports clubs were added to the register during the year.

4 The committee also continued its co-operation with the Sports Department over the Driver Assessment and Vehicle Hire Scheme (administered from the Sports Department but open to use by any club registered with the Proctors). This important scheme enables students to drive good-quality hired vehicles safely, insured by the University, when taking part in bona fide club activities such as travelling to sports fixtures or events outside Oxford. 691 total hires were made by clubs under the scheme, the great majority of these (567) being for sports purposes. During the year, driver assessments were carried out on 28 days (both new and refresher assessments). These were much the same as the previous year. The number of student drivers showed an increase of around 30% to 330 on the scheme's database. The number of reportable insurance incidents was lower than last year: 13 rather than 17, an encouraging trend. However the overall cost was slightly higher owing to three large claims (all incurred while drivers were manoeuvring vehicles at low speed). Action to reduce such claims continues with the Assessment Consultant and directly with Clubs.

5 Financial support was provided direct to clubs in the form of grants and interest-free loans. During the year the committee considered about 20 applications from non-sports clubs and publications. Of these, 13 applications were supported. Start-up awards (up to £200) reflected our global reach: the maximum grant was given to the Tea Appreciation Society, Society for Geology for Global Development and the Oxford Indian Classical Arts Society, as well as the Ballet Society and, a group undeterred by the laws of physics, the Quidditch Society. The Darts Club, which lapsed in 2007, was re-registered and also qualified for the start-up grant of £200. The support of music continued with a grant of £140 to the Oxford Philharmonia for rehearsal room hire, £769 towards the costs of hosting an Oxford/Cambridge performance of Verdi's Requiem, and a grant of £230 to the OU Brass Band, to support its participation in the 2013 national student championships. The committee appreciated the application of the OU Historical Re-enactment Society towards the provision of helmets, swords and a new axe and gave a grant of £300 (after inspection of a safety assessment!). The Chabad Society was given £500 for bookcases for Tajtelbaum Library in Chabad House. Students continue to give generously of their time: the Exeter College Vacation Project (open to students from all colleges) was given £500 towards the costs of the student volunteers taking the children from deprived regions on holiday. Oxford Lawyers Without Borders received a loan of £200 towards the costs of staging a global conference. The reports back to the committee show that its funding, although often comparatively modest, makes a considerable difference to the viability of new clubs and to the success of the activities of those which have been in existence longer.

6 Last year we reported that a Working Group on Club Constitutions had been set up. Its recommendations to the Rules Committee in Hilary 2013 were accepted. The significant ruling was that all clubs should work from the same basic constitution, although it was acknowledged that the large Sports Clubs would need particular additions. Early consultations with the large clubs were encouraging. Clubs were given until September 2014 to adopt the new constitution. Unfortunately progress on implementing these recommendations has been slower than hoped but it is expected that most clubs will still be able to meet the September deadline.

7 As always the Clubs Committee benefited from the keen interest and lively contributions of its student members. The committee remains convinced that student clubs contribute hugely to the University's sporting, social, cultural and charitable activities and is pleased to be able to help to promote and support these.

8 Finally we are very sorry to report the resignation of Brian Gasser as Clerk to the Proctors. Dr Gasser has been secretary to the Clubs Committee for many years. He has given generously of his time and expertise both to the committee and to individual clubs and we are very grateful to him for all his work.

Industrial action

A number of staff members may participate in a full day of industrial action organised by UNISON, Unite and UCU on 6 February. Those members of staff who participate are asked to complete a payroll deduction form and send it to the Payroll Office. The form gives authorisation for the deduction of one day's pay (calculated on the basis of 1/337 of annual salary). The form can be downloaded from the Finance Division's website at www.admin.ox.ac.uk/finance/processes/forms/payroll.

Join the Oxford Public Service Centre.

Oxford University's Public Service Centre (PSC) is a service organisation connecting Oxford students, faculty and alumni with community organisations. Oxford PSC participates in volunteer projects with local and international nonprofit organisations, school programs, civic-engagement initiatives and related developmental work continually throughout the year to form community partnerships that exemplify the service-learning philosophy. For more information contact Oxford PSC President Asad Moten at aimoten@gmail.com.

UK Brain Bank for Autism and Related Developmental Research, JR

The developing brain is altered in autism but neuroscientists do not know how or why. Research is needed to understand the causes and biological basis of autism, to develop better interventions to improve the lives of those directly affected by it. Such critical research is hindered by the scarcity of donated human brain tissue. Control tissue, donated by people who do not have autism, is needed for comparison just as much as donations by people who do – and the NHS organ donor scheme does not include brain donation. We particularly want younger people to consider making a pledge to donate their brain after death (the further the brain is from its inception, the more difficult it is to understand the process of its development, so we do not take donations from people over 65 not directly affected by autism). See www.brainbankforautism.org.uk for information and to register as a donor.

Research participants sought

Healthy volunteers aged 40–60 required for research study of a drip of iron. We are conducting research looking at the body's response to a single dose of iron into a vein. Study involves 1 screening and 2 study visits to the Department of Physiology. The first lasts around 2 hours to assess suitability. The 2 study days last up to 9 hours each. Tests include heart ultrasound scans whilst breathing low oxygen, and blood tests. You would be paid for time and travel. You can take part if you are in good health with no problems with your heart, breathing or red blood cells; are not pregnant or breast feeding; have not taken iron tablets or had a blood transfusion in the past 6 weeks; are not very overweight. Ethical approval number: 12/SC/0710. Please email: matthew.frise@dpag.ox.ac.uk.
