Notices

General notices

Open Access Oxford

The Oxford Open Access Project is a collaborative project involving Research Services, the Bodleian Libraries, IT Services, the Planning and Resource Allocation Section, OUP, and the Academic Divisions, accountable to the Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Research) and the Research Committee. The project is looking at the implementation of Open Access (research literature which is digital, online, free of charge and free of most copyright and licensing restrictions) at Oxford.

Following recent changes to Open Access (OA) mandates by many of Oxford's main sponsors, including RCUK, a new website has been created to enable you to find out more about what's happening, Oxford's interpretation and implementation of OA, and what you need to do next. Visit <http://openaccess.ox.ac.uk> for more information. If you have a question you can email open-access-enquiries@bodleian.ox.ac.uk and a member of the Open Access team will respond. You can also keep up to date on Twitter by following @oaoxford.

University Open Days

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Undergraduate Admissions Enquiries Team is looking for volunteers on 26 and 27 June to form a friendly and welcoming presence at key places around Oxford. If you would like to be involved in helping prospective applicants navigate the streets of Oxford, and to find out more about how the University recruits undergraduates, we would love to hear from you.

No specialist knowledge required, just giving directions to visitors, lots of smiling and handing out copies of the Open Day guide - full details will be sent out before the day. Staff who took part in previous years all told us how much they had enjoyed the experience.

If you are able to spare some time on either 26 or 27 June, whether a couple of hours or the full day, please email Jan Marshall at opendays@admin.ox.ac.uk or phone 70745. Please ensure you have your line manager's approval. Further information: ox.ac.uk/opendays.
