Brief note about nature of change: Clarification of rules on offering single-language versions of Comedy, Historiography and Lyric Poetry

Effective date

For students starting the degree in MT 2021; for first examination in TT 2025.

Location of change

In Examination Regulations 2018-19: citation numbers 1.122-123.

Detail of change

See extracts from online Examination Regulations below.

Amend citation references 1.122-123 as follows (new text underlined, deleted text struck through):

^{1.120} Note 1: Each of subjects 503, 504 and 507 will be examined by a one-and-a-half hour translation paper on the prescribed texts and an extended essay of up to 6,000 words. Each of these subjects is available in three versions:

^{1.121} (a) Greek and Latin, for Course I candidates.

^{1.122} (b) Greek only, ~~for Course II candidates or single-language candidates in Classics & English, Classics & Modern Languages, or Classics & Oriental Studies offering Greek~~ for candidates who sat Course IIB in Honour Moderations in Classics, or who offered Greek as their only Classical language in the Preliminary Examination in Classics & English or Modern Languages.

^{1.123} (c) Latin only, ~~for Course II candidates or single-language candidates in Classics & English, Classics & Modern Languages, or Classics & Oriental Studies offering Latin~~ for candidates who sat Course IIA in Honour Moderations in Classics, or who offered Latin as their only Classical language in the Preliminary Examination in Classics & English or Modern Languages.

Explanatory Notes

The existing wording of the rules on taking the single-language versions of papers 503 Historiography, 504 Lyric Poetry and 507 Comedy is ambiguous and is therefore being revised for greater clarity.
